If you thrive in fast-paced environments where your expertise keeps production moving, this role is for you. As a QC Specialist, you will ensure raw materials meet the highest quality standards before reaching production. You'll apply advanced analytical techniques, handle real-time challenges, and play a key role in maintaining compliance and data integrity in a high-demand environment.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Perform raw material testing and analysis using chromatography and related laboratory techniques.
- Support compliant material release decisions to ensure production readiness and uninterrupted supply.
- Maintain accurate documentation and strong data integrity across testing and quality records.
- Ensure full compliance with Good Manufacturing Practices and site quality standards.
- Support investigations and quality issue resolution in a high-pressure manufacturing environment.
- Collaborate with production, procurement, and suppliers to prevent delays and resolve risks.
- Contribute technical expertise to inspection readiness and continuous improvement initiatives.

Essential Requirements

- Bachelor's degree in Pharmacy or a related scientific field.
- At least two years of experience in pharmaceutical quality control.
- Hands-on experience in raw material testing, including chromatography-based analysis.
- Strong knowledge of Good Manufacturing Practices and quality compliance requirements.
- High attention to data integrity, documentation accuracy, and reliable execution.
- Ability to manage complexity, solve problems quickly, and collaborate across teams.

Desirable Requirements

- Experience in environmental monitoring
- Exposure to quality control, analytical science and technology, or quality assurance environments.

Commitment to Diversity & Inclusion

Novartis is committed to building an outstanding, inclusive work environment and diverse teams representative of the patients and communities we serve.

Novartis is a proud member of the ILO Global Business and Disability Network and the Valuable 500, promoting the inclusion of people with disabilities in workplaces around the world.
