We are seeking a Global Labelling Director (Content Team Lead) to provide leadership and strategic direction for global labelling activities across a portfolio of products and projects.

This role is responsible for delivering high-quality, consistent, and compliant labelling content aligned with overall product strategy, supporting the development and lifecycle of medicines globally.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Lead, develop and support a team of labelling professionals, fostering an inclusive and high-performing environment.
- Define and deliver global labelling strategies aligned with target product profiles and overall asset plans.
- Oversee the development and maintenance of core and major market labelling documents.
- Provide guidance on interactions with regulatory authorities, including labelling discussions where applicable.
- Collaborate with cross-functional partners to ensure alignment on labelling strategy and execution.
- Ensure labelling content reflects current regulatory requirements, scientific evidence, and competitive insights.
- Support the development of evidence packages and regulatory documentation.
- Drive continuous improvement in labelling processes, tools, and ways of working.

Essential Requirements

- Experience in global labelling and/or regulatory affairs within the pharmaceutical or life sciences industry.
- Demonstrated ability to develop and deliver labelling strategies across product development and lifecycle stages.
- Strong understanding of clinical data, safety information, and regulatory requirements, with the ability to translate these into clear labelling content.
- Knowledge of global labelling frameworks and expectations across major markets.
- Experience working in cross-functional, matrix environments with multiple stakeholders.
- Proven people management experience, including leading, developing and supporting individuals or teams in a professional setting.
- Strong communication skills, with the ability to present complex information clearly and influence decision-making.
- Ability to manage priorities effectively and deliver high-quality outcomes within timelines.
