Сводка

This role is based in Prague, Czech Republic. Novartis is unable to offer relocation support for this role: please only apply if this location is accessible for you.

Step into a role where your scientific expertise shapes meaningful dialogue with medical experts, supports evidence generation, and strengthens education that empowers healthcare professionals. As a Medical Science Liaison, you will build trusted, peer level partnerships, deliver high quality scientific exchange, and provide impactful medical education that enhances understanding of disease areas and Novartis innovations to advance patient care. If you are inspired to make a real difference through science, education, and collaboration, we would love to hear from you.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities:

- Execute Medical Expert engagement plans aligned with therapeutic area priorities and conduct unbiased, evidence-based, peer-to-peer scientific exchange with HCPs and Medical Experts.
- Identify, map, and engage relevant Medical Experts and key accounts when medical needs, scientific questions, or evidence gaps arise.
- Share, discuss, and contextualize new clinical data, publications, and emerging scientific evidence to support high-quality scientific dialogue.
- Support ME/HCP education activities, including hospital staff meetings, regional scientific events, symposia, and internal or external educational initiatives.
- Systematically collect, synthesize, and communicate actionable external insights from clinical practice, scientific discussions, and competitive activities to inform medical strategy.
- Support evidence generation and clinical research activities by identifying and qualifying potential study sites and facilitating communication between sites and internal teams.
- Contribute scientific insights to country medical plans and disease area strategies while maintaining strong understanding of the therapeutic landscape, emerging data, and competitor environment.
- Build and maintain partnerships with Medical Experts, scientific societies, academic institutions, and other stakeholders to support collaboration and scientific leadership in the therapeutic area.
- Act as a scientific resource for internal partners by providing clinical context, data interpretation, training, and support for cross-functional collaboration.
- Represent Novartis as a credible scientific ambassador and strengthen the medical ecosystem through evidence-based collaborations, multistakeholder partnerships, and joint value creation initiatives.
- Ensure all engagements, materials, documentation, CRM reporting, and activities meet ERC, regulatory, and medical governance requirements.
- Provide expert medical and scientific guidance to internal cross-functional team (e.g., Medical Affairs, Commercial, Regulatory, Pharmacovigilance).
- Provide scientific training, onboarding, and ongoing education for internal teams to ensure consistent, evidence-based communication across the organization.

Essential Requirements:

- University degree in Medicine (MD) or Pharmacy (PharmD or MPharm)
- Fluency in English and Czech or Slovak language is mandatory, as well as Driving license B.
- Demonstrated ability to engage in high-quality scientific dialogue with HCPs and Medical Experts.
- Strong ability to interpret clinical data, scientific evidence, and emerging therapeutic area information.
- Sound understanding of pharmaceutical industry regulations, compliance requirements, and scientific engagement standards.
- Experience supporting clinical research is a plus, including understanding of evidence generation approaches such as RWE, clinical trials, and observational studies.
- Strong scientific engagement, communication, and insight-generation capabilities, including the ability to collect, synthesize, and communicate actionable insights.
- Ability to partner effectively in a matrix environment and collaborate across functions with credibility, clarity of purpose, and influence without authority.
- Strong planning, prioritization, and territory management abilities, with adaptability, resilience, and comfort navigating ambiguity.
- Scientific curiosity, growth mindset, clear and impactful communication, and ability to simplify complex science for different audiences.
- High integrity, ethical judgment, and a patient-centric mindset guiding all internal and external interactions.
