Relocation Support: This role is based in Barcelona, Spain. Novartis is unable to offer relocation support for this role. Please only apply if this location is accessible for you.

About this role:

Do you want to play a pivotal role in shaping the future of patient safety on a global scale? As Associate Director, Aggregate Reports & Risk Management, you will help run compliant and efficient AR&RM operations, with a focus on operational metrics and compliance, scheduling and assignment, onboarding and training coordination, collaboration across functions and geographies, audit and inspection readiness, operational guidance documents, process updates, and continuous operational excellence.

About the Role

Major accountabilities:

- Lead AR&RM operational activities across the product portfolio, ensuring effective coordination, scheduling, assignment, and delivery to Country Organisations
- Develop and maintain the global aggregate reporting schedule in close collaboration with Country Organisations and global line functions, ensuring timely execution
- Ensure quality and compliance of aggregate reports, risk management plans, and commitments, including driving investigations, root cause analysis, and CAPA implementation
- Monitor operational KPIs and lead audit and inspection readiness activities, including Health Authority inspections and regulatory compliance requirements
- Act as a key operational interface between AR&RM, Country Organisations, and cross-functional stakeholders to ensure alignment and seamless collaboration
- Represent the organisation externally as an operational lead in interactions with relevant stakeholders and partners
- Drive operational excellence and lead global PS&PV initiatives to enhance processes, systems, and delivery of AR&RM activities
- Lead the transition and integration of new AR&RM activities and support implementation of innovative solutions, including AI-enabled tools
- Lead onboarding, training, and mentoring of AR&RM associates to strengthen team capability and performance
- Deputise for the line manager and support recruitment and team development activities

Essential Requirements:

- Degree in Life Sciences, Pharmacy, Medical Sciences, or a related scientific discipline.
- Minimum 7 years of experience within the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, or healthcare industry.
- Proven experience leading complex cross-functional programs, projects, or business transformation initiatives.
- Intermediate knowledge of pharmacovigilance, drug development, regulatory and business requirements.
- Demonstrated ability to effectively leverage Artificial Intelligence and digital technologies to enhance decision-making, efficiency, and business outcomes.
- Proven ability to influence senior stakeholders and build consensus across diverse organizations.
- Excellent project planning, prioritization, and execution skills with strong attention to detail.
- Strong communication, collaboration, negotiation, and stakeholder management skills.
- Experience using project management and collaboration tools, including Microsoft Project, SharePoint, Teams, and Microsoft Office applications.
- Fluent English – both spoken and written. Additional languages are an advantage.

Desirable Skills:

- Knowledge of Novartis organizational structure, processes, and ways of working.
- Expertise in project management methodologies such as Lean Six Sigma, Agile, or related approaches.

Closing date for applications: 31 July 2026

Applications will be reviewed during the week commencing 03 August 2026, and candidates can expect to hear further updates shortly thereafter.
