Join us in shaping the future of pharmaceutical manufacturing. As Technical Manager, External Supply Operations, you will manage Manufacturing Science & Technology activities across external manufacturing partners, driving product stewardship, technology transfers, process improvements, and successful new product launches that help bring medicines to patients worldwide.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Lead technology transfers of Oral Solid Dosage (OSD) products to Contract Manufacturing Organizations (CMOs).
- Assess manufacturing capabilities, identify technical gaps, and support CMOs in achieving transfer readiness.
- Drive manufacturing and packaging validation activities, ensuring protocols, timelines, and acceptance criteria are met.
- Monitor validation batches at manufacturing sites and provide hands-on technical support during execution.
- Review manufacturing, validation, and stability data to ensure product quality and compliance requirements are met.
- Investigate technical issues and support the implementation of effective solutions during transfer and validation activities.
- Collaborate closely with Supplier Relationship Teams, Lifecycle Managers, Quality, and external manufacturing partners.
- Manage multiple product transfers and validation projects simultaneously, ensuring timely delivery of project milestones.
- Provide regular project updates, risk assessments, and technical recommendations to key stakeholders.
- Act as the technical expert for OSD manufacturing processes across assigned external manufacturing partners.

Essential Requirements

- Master's degree or post-graduation in Pharmacy.
- Minimum 10 years of experience in pharmaceutical manufacturing, with minimum 7 years in Technology Transfer, Manufacturing Science & Technology, or Technical Operations.
- Strong experience with Oral Solid Dosage (OSD) products, including tablet manufacturing processes.
- Proven experience leading technology transfers to Contract Manufacturing Organizations (CMOs).
- Hands-on experience with manufacturing and packaging validation activities, including protocol development, execution oversight, and validation review.
- Strong understanding of GMP, pharmaceutical quality systems, and regulatory requirements.
- Ability to independently drive multiple tech transfer and validation projects and effectively manage technical stakeholders.
- Excellent knowledge of English and proficient in the local language.
