Ready to turn product cost and inventory data into insights that strengthen financial decisions? As a Product Costing and Accounting Specialist, you will coordinate and support product costing and accounting activities across Canada and Latin America regions. You will work closely with Finance leaders and business partners to maintain accurate cost and inventory information, deliver timely reporting, support SAP-related processes, and identify opportunities to improve financial operations. This role offers the opportunity to combine accounting expertise, critical thinking, and cross-functional collaboration to improve service quality and business outcomes.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Coordinate product costing and accounting processes across Canada and Latin America regions.
- Maintain accurate cost and inventory records while delivering timely financial analysis and obsolete inventory reporting.
- Support general ledger activities, internal reporting, statutory accounts, tax information, and financial consolidation requirements.
- Provide first-line SAP support and contribute to Financial Reporting and Accounting projects and process improvements.

Essential Requirements

- Bachelor´s Degree in Accounting.
- Relevant experience executing financial operations, product costing, inventory accounting, or general accounting processes.
- Knowledge of general ledger accounting and financial and management reporting.
- Ability to analyze financial information, understand value drivers, and deliver accurate, timely insights.
- Strong critical-thinking, communication, and stakeholder-management skills, with the ability to influence key partners.
- Professional English proficiency and the ability to collaborate across countries and functions.
- Advanced proficiency in Microsoft Office tools, with a strong focus on data analysis, financial insights, and decision-making.

Desirable Requirements

- Previous experience in the pharmaceutical industry is considered a strong advantage.
- Experience using SAP for product costing, inventory accounting, or related financial processes.
- Experience supporting process optimization, resource allocation, or regional Finance projects.

Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion
