Reimagining Medicine Starts With Our People
The Manager, US Strategy Analyst serves as a key analytical partner supporting enterprise and commercial strategy development. Reporting to the Executive Director, US Business Strategy Lead, this role provides research, business insights, benchmarking, dashboarding, and project-management support that enables strategic decision-making across critical business initiatives.
The successful candidate will transform data into actionable insights, support executive storytelling, and help drive strategy execution through structured analysis and fact-based recommendations.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Gather, clean, analyze, and synthesize data supporting strategic planning and enterprise decision-making.
- Conduct market, competitor, customer, partnership, operating model, and performance analyses.
- Develop executive-ready dashboards, reports, presentations, and fact packs.
- Support workshop preparation, stakeholder interviews, meeting documentation, and action tracking.
- Create concise insights and recommendations that inform strategic priorities and business opportunities.
- Maintain knowledge repositories, benchmark libraries, and standardized strategic planning tools.
- Identify data inconsistencies, unsupported assumptions, and gaps in business analyses.
- Support the development of executive communications and strategic presentations.

Essential Requirements

- Bachelor's degree required; MBA or advanced degree preferred.
- Minimum 3 years of experience in strategy, consulting, commercial operations, business analytics, finance, market research, innovation, or related functions.
- Strong proficiency in Excel, PowerPoint, data visualization tools, and analytical methodologies.
- Ability to translate complex data into meaningful business insights and recommendations.
- Excellent project coordination and organizational skills.
- Strong verbal and written communication skills.
- Experience working with executive stakeholders and cross-functional teams.
- Fluency in English required.
- Pharmaceutical, healthcare, consulting, commercial analytics, or strategy operations experience strongly preferred.
